There are 9 units within the Faculty of Engineering: Dean’s Office, CBE, CEE, CELI, ECE, MME, SBME, BLWT, UMS. Research Centres fall under their respective departments. Every attempt should be made to have equal representation between the administrative staff and technical staff.

- e) The Committee should ensure that there is a review of unsuccessful nominations from the previous year and consider their possible resubmission. At the discretion of the Committee, nomination packages of worthy nominees can stand for up to 3 years within this Committee. This decision will be communicated to the nominator and the nominee. The nominee can either accept or decline their standing nomination. Annually, the nominator/nominee will be given the opportunity to update the nomination package.

DEAN'S ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON MAJOR AWARDS

Approved Faculty Council, 2018 June 6

Revised Faculty Council, 2020 Mar 12

Revised Faculty Council, 2024 May 30

Background:

Many of our faculty members are well-known internationally for their special achievements and areas of expertise. Nevertheless, this has not always been reflected upon reviewing lists of recipients of many major external awards.

There are many different types of awards and distinctions that are available to faculty members in recognition of special achievements. These may or may not have a financial component associated with them, and normally have a nomination process that does not involve the individual directly. These can be roughly categorized as:

a) Internal Western Awards, adjudicated at the department or Faculty level

These awards are usually related to a particular discipline, and recognize exceptional accomplishments by faculty members, relative to their peers in their home department or Faculty. The criteria for these awards can be quite varied and have often been established through initiatives by the department or Faculty, and are administered at that level. They are usually specific to either Teaching or Research, or in certain cases, both.

Such awards are important ways of providing recognition to faculty members who have demonstrated special abilities in a particular area of expertise, and they encompass a broad range of eligibility criteria.

b) University-Wide Awards

These awards represent a “next-higher” level of recognition. In many cases, the awards have specific eligibility criteria, but are not restricted to a particular discipline. They tend to give recognition to individuals who have established a significant set of achievements over a period of time.

Nominations for these awards are reviewed at the University administrative level, either through the University Senate or through the Office of one of the Vice-Presidents. Usually, external letters of support are required and a significantly detailed nomination dossier needs to be prepared.

c) External Awards

These awards are those that are administered by organizations that are external to the University. This could involve a professional society that is specific to a particular discipline or a group or organization that is not discipline specific. Both national and international competitions might be involved. This category would include the major prizes of the granting Councils and professional societies, and also those administered by academic societies such as the Royal Society of Canada. As might be expected, nominees who might be put forward for these awards should be persons who have had a distinguished set of accomplishments, and certainly would be expected to have already received recognition through other awards, both internal and external to the University.

External research awards will be the primary focus of the Dean's Advisory Committee on Major Awards.

Terms of Reference:

The following aspects should be considered for the Dean's Advisory Committee on Major Awards:

- f) There will be two representatives from each department (CBE, CEE, ECE, MME), nominated by the Faculty Nominating Committee and elected by Faculty Council.
- g) One member from each Department shall be a tenured full-time professor. Members should represent a range of career stages. Members cannot be in one of the following academic administrative roles: Dean, Associate/Assistant Dean and Department Chair. Professors on sabbaticals or leaves are not eligible. If a member goes on a leave during their term, they will be replaced to serve for the duration of their leave.
- h) Terms are two years, renewable once, staggered to ensure consistency, and knowledge transfer.
- i) All members must have undertaken the Bias in Peer Review training offered by the CRC/Tri-councils and the Building Inclusivity Through Anti-Racism module by Western's EDI Office prior to their first Committee meeting.
- j) Attendance at meetings is important. If a committee member misses two consecutive meetings, that member will be removed from the committee and replaced. There will be 3-4 meetings each year.
- k) Pre-meeting preparation is mandatory to continue sitting on this Committee. Award details/nomination packages must be reviewed before attending the meeting.
- l) If Committee members are being considered for awards, those specific members will not participate in the discussion of those awards. Self-nomination is not permitted.
- m) The Committee will contact the Office of Research Services (Western Research) bi-annually to obtain a current list of available major awards and honors. They should then review the faculty members within their unit to decide if a suitable nominee might be available for that year's nomination. There should also be an invitation for Department Chairs to suggest names for consideration by the Committee.
- n) The Committee will review all potential candidates and recommend to the Dean who might be put forward as a nominee for a particular award.
- o) The Committee should ensure that there is a review of unsuccessful nominees from the previous year and to consider their possible resubmission.
- p) The initial consideration of potential nominees for an award should involve a list of names and a short description of why each of them fulfills the terms of reference for the award. Once a name has been selected, a series of steps need to be undertaken. The Chair of the Committee should report the results of recommendation to the Dean and relevant Department Chair(s). Upon the approval of the Dean and Department Chair(s), the nominee will need to be approached to seek their agreement to let their name be put forward.
- q) For awards that fall outside the Awards & Distinctions portfolio within the Office of Research Services (Western Research), the home department of the nominee shall be responsible for putting the nomination package together, including the collection of support letters, with direction from this Committee and the Associate Dean, Research.
- r) The Committee should promote awareness of these awards and the success of past winners.

Preparing the Nomination Dossier (For awards that fall outside the Awards & Distinctions portfolio within the Office of Research Services (Western Research):

It is recommended that the Department Chair and the Administrative Officer be assigned to oversee the nomination process and package preparation.

Although the specific nomination requirements for each award are readily available, some judgement is necessary during the preparation of the nomination dossier so that the information is presented in a manner that will have the most impact. Invariably, there will be external letters of support, an up-to-date CV, a covering letter and one or more letters of nomination. Additional documentation may also be needed. The Western Engineering Research Office should provide guidance in how best to carry out this task. Examples of previous year's nomination packages may be available for guidance in preparation of the package.

Once the dossier has been prepared, the Dean is provided with the original copy for final review and signature where appropriate. The Western Engineering Research Office will provide a final evaluation to ensure all necessary documents are in order before submission. The Western Engineering Research Office will then submit the completed package and keep a record of all submitted nominations.

Committee Membership:

- Associate Dean, Research (Chair)
- Two Faculty Members from each department (CBE, CEE, ECE, MME)
- Research Officer, Engineering Research Office (ex-officio, no vote)
- Manager, Engineering Research Office (ex-officio, no vote)
- Manager, Research Awards & Distinctions (Office of Research Services) (ex-officio, no vote)
- One staff or faculty member focusing on equity, diversity, and inclusion (EDI) considerations (ex-officio, no vote)

The term start date is July 1. Other support personnel may be invited to attend Committee meetings as appropriate.

Background

Western Engineering creates, disseminates and applies knowledge for the benefit of society through excellence in teaching, research and scholarship. We aim at training our graduates to be global citizens whose education and leadership serve the public good and make an impact on complex global problems which requires a diversity of skills, ideas and talents.

In order to be a destination of choice for the world's brightest minds seeking the best learning and training experience at Western Engineering, we need to properly identify and remove systemic barriers and biases and provide equal access to opportunities and resources for all individuals, including undergraduate and graduate students, as well as staff and faculty members.

Mandate

Western Engineering EDID Steering Committee (henceforth 'the Committee') is established for developing high-level recommendations to Western Engineering Faculty Council (henceforth 'the Council') in creating and maintaining an inclusive and safe environment for all underrepresented groups (e.g., women, persons with disabilities, Indigenous Peoples, racialized minorities, individuals from the LGBTQ2+ community) at the Faculty. After the Council's approval, the recommendations will be directed to the appropriate governance committees for implementation.

The Committee is responsible for translating the principles and regulations on EDID into clear policies and action plans. The action plans should explicitly describe how the priorities and objectives have been identified and progressed, outcomes tracked and monitored, and risks managed.

The Committee works closely with its three sub-committees on all matters of significance related to equity, diversity and inclusion issues that have and/or might have an impact on:

- Research and Graduate Education
- Undergraduate Education
- Inclusivity in the Faculty community at large

Western Engineering EDID Steering Committee is committed, through its sub-committees, to ensure that the impact and outcomes of the policies implemented and actions taken are accurately and constantly measured, monitored, and reported.

Key Responsibilities

The Committee:

- a. Develops an EDID Strategic Plan, including implementation and risk assessment plans, for Western Engineering.

- h. Ensures effective communication of its activities to all its relevant stakeholders, both internal and external.
- i. Addresses other equity matters as directed by the Council.

Membership

Western Engineering EDID Steering Committee is co-chaired by one faculty member (elected by the Faculty Council) and one staff member (elected by the Western Engineering staff community). The initial appointment of one of the co-chairs will be for two years, and the other for one year to ensure consistency and knowledge transfer.

Each sub-committee has two co-chairs from the Western Engineering community (faculty member, staff member, student or postdoctoral fellow/associate). The co-chairs are elected by the members of their respective sub-committees at the beginning of the academic year.

Membership of the EDID Steering Committee consists of:

- Faculty member (1), co-chair
- Staff member (1), co-chair
- Co-chairs of the sub-committee on Research and Graduate Education (2)
- Co-chairs of the sub-committee on Undergraduate Education (2)
- Co-chairs of the sub-committee on Inclusivity in the Faculty Community (2)
- Resource persons (2) – non-voting

The resource persons are selected by the Steering Committee co-chairs in consultation with sub-committees' co-chairs.

The agenda and related material will be sent to Committee members prior to each meeting, a minimum of one week in advance, and the minutes of the meeting are taken and duly circulated at the next meeting for approval.

The Committee may request ad hoc representation from individuals with specialized expertise (e.g., EDID Specialist), at which time, said individuals may provide advice to the Committee and/or sit as observers at the invitation of the co-chairs.
