

Western Engineering

The Young Alumni Award

Nomination Form

The Western Engineering Young Alumni Award recognizes remarkable alumni who have distinguished themselves through their professional achievements in their chosen field of Engineering, community service or a combination of both, who show promise of further contributions. The recipient must be an alum of Western Engineering, be aged 35 or under at the time of nomination and sets an inspirational example for Western Engineering students and young alumni. Established in 2022, this award acknowledges the achievements of our younger alumni who have attained exceptional accomplishments in their lives and careers since graduation.
