

Western Water Chapter (WWC)

Fall Semester Events & Details

Hello, and happy fall season from your friendly exec!

This past week, most of your exec went on a local nature walk to enjoy our beautiful fall weather and kick-off the WWC 2014/2015 year. We've also been busy planning some exciting events for members. Please check out the following list of WWC's upcoming events.

November 4th, 2014

WWC Social

7 - 9pm @ The Wave, On Campus

Details: Come out and join the rest of the WWC for an evening of food, drinks and good company. Discuss exciting water news, upcoming events, or just meet people with similar interests. Hope to see you there!

November 6th, 2014

Webinar: Preparing for Ebola in the Water Sector

1 - 2pm @ Online

Details: this is not a formally organized WWC event; if you are interested in this webinar, please register and tune in on your own personal computer at the following link:

November 12th, 2014

WWC Executive Meeting

12:30pm @ TEB 434, On Campus

Details: This is one of the bi-weekly meetings held by the WWC executive board which we use to plan and organize future WWC events. All WWC members are welcome to attend this meeting and contribute suggestions for future possible events or anything else you think may be relevant to WWC. (Or you're welcome just to stop in and say hello!)

November 12th, 2014

Webinar: Measuring and Addressing Water/Wastewater Bills Affordability

1 - 2:30pm @ TEB 434, On Campus

Details: Join WWC members and tune-in to a water-related webinar hosted by AWWA, which we will be broadcasting on a projector. The purpose of this particular webinar is to develop an understanding of affordability of water and wastewater bills. More information about the webinar can be found on AWWA's website (but note that the event will be free for you if you join us for the viewing): <http://www.awwa.org/store/productdetail/ordernumber/7000887365.aspx?productid=39207495>
Snacks and beverages will be provided.
